Behatted Dr. John Hewyts ghost pleading, yea crying for example justice against the arbitrarie, un-exampled injustice of his late judges and executioners in the new High-commission, or Court of justice, sitting in Westminster-hall. Containing his legal plea, demurrer, and exceptions to their illegal jurisdiction, proceedings, and bloody sentence against him; drawn up by counsel, and left behind him ready ingrossed; the substance whereof he pleaded before them by word of mouth, and would have tendered them in writing in due form of law, had he not discerned their peremptory resolution to reject and over-ule, before they heard them read ... Concordia discors, or the dissant harmony of sacred publique oaths, protestations, leagues, covenants, ingagements, lately taken by the many time-serving saints, officers, without scruple of conscience; making a very unpleasant concert in the ears of our most faithful oath performing, covenant-keeping God, and all loyal conscientious subjects; sufficient to create a doleful hall, and tormenting horror in the awakened consciences of all those, who have taken, and violated them too, successively, without any fear of God, men, devils, or hell. Gatford, Lionel, d. 1906.

Public good without private interest. Or, A compendious remembrance of the present and state and condition of the English colonies in Virginia. With a modest declaration of the several causes ... why it hath not prospered better hitherto; as also, a submissive suggestion of the most prudential probable ways, and means, both divine and civil ... for its happier improvement and advancement for the future. Humbly presented to His Highness the Lord Protector, by a person anxiously devoted, to the more effectual propagating of the gospel
